GOT AHEAD OF PAP.

This Young Man Was Bound to See a Real River and Saw It.

There was an excursion down from Shelbyville, Ind., yesterday, and the Hoosiers were scattered all over the city, looking with wide staring eyes at everything. On the ferry-boat Hite was a group of the most rural-looking of them, says the Louisville Commercial. There was one big, raw-boned fellow that I noticed particularly. He wanted to talk, I could plainly see by his man-ner, and I smiled encouragingly at him. Then he said:

John Gorman, a Long Island City pugilist, who at one time was matched to fight Jack Skelly, was fined 31 for in-toxication in the Ewen Street Court, Williamsburg, to-day.

Gorman and a man named James Me-Grath had a lively time in Williamsburg last night, and Justice Murphy said that the only reason he let them off so lightly was because Gorman did not resist the policeman who arrested him.

McGrath, who is not a pugllist, was fined $3. fight Jack Skelly, was fined $1 for in-
